

LAOS – LUANG PRABANG & VIENTIANE

‘THE LAND OF MILLION ELEPHANTS’

DURATION: 4 N / 5 D - 50 ADULTS

OVERVIEW OF LAOS

- Laos is a Southeast Asian country traversed by the Mekong River and known for mountainous terrain, French colonial architecture, hill tribe settlements and Buddhist monasteries. Vientiane, the capital, is the site of the That Luang monument, where a reliquary reportedly houses the Buddha's breastbone, plus the Patuxai war memorial and Talat Sao (Morning Market), a complex jammed with food, clothes and craft stalls.
- Laos, known as the "Land of a Million Elephants," is a landlocked country in Southeast Asia about the size of Kansas. The elephant symbolizes the ancient kingdom of Lan Xang, and is sacred to the Lao people, who believe it will bring prosperity to their country. Dress respectfully. such as long trousers & sleeved shirts, when visiting temples and take your shoes off before entering temple buildings and private houses.

TOPOGRAPHY:

- The overall topography of Laos is hilly and mountainous with thick green forests. River valleys and an increasingly steep terrain front the mountainous landscape.

GEOGRAPHY:

A mountainous and landlocked country, Laos shares borders with

- Vietnam to the East
- Cambodia to the South
- Thailand to the West
- Myanmar and China to the north

BEST TIME TO VISIT:

- Laos has three distinct seasons:
- The hot season is from March to May, when temperatures can soar as high as 40°C.
- The slightly cooler wet season is from May to October, when temperatures are around 30°C, tropical downpours are frequent (especially July-August), and, in some years, the Mekong will flood.
- The dry season from November to March, which has low rainfall and temperatures as low as 15°C (or even to zero in the mountains at night), is "high season" (when the most tourists are in the country).
