

BHUBANESHWAR

~ Known as the temple city

Duration: 2 N / 3 D

Number of Pax: 50

OVERVIEW

- Once dubbed the 'Temple City', Bhubaneswar is an enthralling pit stop for a day or two as you take in the old city's holy centre around the ceremonial tank called Bindu Sagar. Here once stood thousands of medieval stone temples; now around 50 remain
- Although the modern city of Bhubaneswar was formally established only in 1948, the history of the areas in and around the present-day city can be traced to the 3rd century BCE and earlier. It is a confluence of Hindu, Buddhist and Jain heritage boasting of some of the finest Kalingan temples.
- Odisha (formerly Orissa), an eastern Indian state on the Bay of Bengal, is known for its tribal cultures and its many ancient Hindu temples
- November to February as the best time to visit Odisha

CUISINES

Chhena Jalebi –

Chhena Jalebi is a popular dish that has its origins in coastal areas of Orissa. Chhena Jalebi in Bhubaneswar is made from fresh cottage cheese, which is properly kneaded, and then, small pretzels are made from it. Then these pretzels are deep fried in coconut oil and soaked in sugar syrup for several hours. Chhena Jalebi is served either chilled or hot.

Malpua –

Malpua is an Indian version of pancakes that is very popular in Bhubaneswar and nearby areas. Malpua is made from sweetened wheat flour batter, and then deep fried and served hot. Malpua is also offered as a main ingredient in prashad to Lord Jagannath at Puri in Orissa.

Murg Saagwala –

Murg saagwala is a dish that was introduced to Orissa during Mughal period. This is a chicken dish made with chicken pieces that are cooked in spinach gravy that is spiced mildly. This dish is considered to be very nutritious and healthy.

Rasmalai –

Rasmalai is a famous dessert that was originated in Bengal and then became popular in other parts of the country. Ras means juicy and malai means milk cream. Rasmali is white, cream or yellow balls of cottage cheese soaked in Rabri or clotted cream, garnished with dry fruits and has cardamom for flavouring.
