OVERVIEW

- Manila is the capital of the Philippines.
- It is located in the northern island of Luzon close to Quezon City.
- Manila has a reputation as a congested, polluted concrete jungle, and is often overlooked as a mere stopover for travellers aiming to reach other Philippine provinces or islands.
- To an extent this reputation is deserved, but Manila is nevertheless rapidly developing and has its own rich history and experiences to offer.
- The city is sprawling, bustling, and culturally complicated, with a colourful multi-cultural heritage and varied nightlife.

BEST TIME TO VISIT

- The 'neutral' months to visit the Philippines are May, June, November and December.
- These months are referred to as the 'shoulder season'. Most part of the country is in the transition from the 'hot season' to the 'rainy season' (May and June) and vice versa (November and December).
- Since seasons don't start and end on an exact date, there is a fair chance that the months December to May are very reasonable to travel around in the Philippines.
