TAJ MAHAL

- The Taj Mahal meaning “crown of the palace” is an ivory white marble mausoleum on the south bank of Yamuna river in the Indian city of Agra.
- The tomb is the centrepiece of a 17-hectare (42-acre) complex, which includes a mosque and a guest house, and is set in formal gardens bounded on three sides by a crenelated wall.

AGRA FORT

- It is a historical fort in the city of Agra in India. It was the main residence of the emperors of the Mughal Dynasty till 1638, when the capital was shifted from Agra to Delhi.
- The Agra fort is a UNESCO World Heritage site. It is about 2.5 km northwest of its more famous sister monument, the Taj Mahal.
- The fort can be more accurately described as a walled city.

ITMAD-UD-DAULAH'S TOMB

- It is a highly ornate edifice, which is looked upon as an imminent precursor of the Taj Mahal as far as elaborate carvings and inlay work are concerned.
- The tomb marks a significant departure from the tombs of the Mughal dynasty built before its construction

- Akbar's Tomb Akbar's Tomb resides in more than 119 acres of land. Located in the grounds of Sikandra, Akbar himself started this construction 1600.
- As per the Tartary custom, it was a practice during that time to commission the coonstruction of one's tomb when alive. The construction of the tomb was completed by this son Jahangir
